OUR HARVEST EVENT:

Sunday 5th October 2008

With a meal following the service

What a let down!

In England we get used to building up our hopes for things and then being let down. This summer has been no exception. We always build up our hopes for a gloriously sunny summer with plenty of warm weather – but what have we had? – What a let down!

The Olympics this year seem to have been the exception with Team GB achieving way above expectations. The cynics are already wondering if this can be repeated in 2012 – they seem to be wanting to be let down!

I'm a Leicester City football fan so that gives me the ultimate right to share in overambitious hopes for a new season. Following this team? - What a let down! The England football team soon begin a new qualifying campaign for the next World Cup. But it always turns out the same doesn't it? We almost achieve and then...what a let down!

But this also transfers to life as well if we're not careful. Job and promotion hopes, relationship dreams, idealistic family expectations, from who we are to whom people think we should be, life can sometimes appear to be one big let down.

What's the point?

What's the point? Many people, sadly, ask this question. Is this all there is to life – sleep, eat, work, TV, sleep – is this it?

When Jesus was on earth, problems were just the same and supporting Leicester would have still been a let down if they had been formed back then! People came to Jesus and asked for his opinion on why life could be such a let down. His answer was quite simple – people's motives are not the same as God's – we'll always be let down eventually because that's human nature. And then he said,

“But I have come to give you more and better life” (John 10:10, Message translation)

It's worth a thought isn't it? The church can't give you this life, or can I – but we can help you in the right direction.

We've got some fantastic opportunities this autumn for you to see for yourself.

Back to Church Sunday – 28th Sept at 11am – see page 4 for details

Harvest Sunday – 5th Oct at 11am – see the centre pages for details

The Alpha Course – Runs for 10 weeks from Wed 8th October at 7pm

Don't let things be a let down for you this autumn – have a more life and better life.

Wishing you a pleasant autumn season.

Simon.

Let's Pray!

Saturday 12th June saw the first Heart of England Baptist Association (HEBA) prayer morning specifically for the Worcestershire area.

There were four venues across the county, one of which was Kidderminster Baptist Church. The morning began at 10am with singing and prayer together and then people were free to pray around each of four stations within the main church or to spend some quiet time in a reflection room. The four stations guided people to pray on specific topics such as the churches within Worcestershire, HEBA, the global church and our local communities. The reflection room gave people the opportunity to spend some quiet time in whichever way they wished. With relaxing music playing in the background, the room contained a cross, a communion table with bread and wine and a table with candles on for people to light. Altogether around 80 people gathered together across our county to spend 2 hours in prayer specifically for the region we live in and we wait with anticipation to see how God will answer the cries of our hearts.

Children's Service

On Sunday 13th July, Kidderminster Baptist Church invited all local families to join in our first ever children's service. Nearly 50 people attended along with representatives from TotsRock musical toddler group, Jack and Jill pre-school playgroup and the Brownies. The newly released film 'Prince Caspian' provided the theme for the service of how we matter to God irrespective of who we are or what we've done in the past and how he can use the most unlikely of people to make a difference.

The American Dream or the Jesus Dream?

– You decide.

President George Bush's victory speech in 2004 included a 'commitment to advance freedom' in the world, for nations to 'live side by side in peace' with each other, and for nations to 'embrace democratic reforms'.

With the November 4th American elections promising much of the same work towards world peace and an end to poverty, our morning services from October will look at some incredibly similar claims made by Jesus.

Similar to the final decision made by the American electorate, God also calls us to make a decision...the decision is yours.

Sunday Mornings in October & November:

12th Oct – The dream has arrived and is still to come

19th Oct – Great news for those in need

26th Oct – Bad news for the establishment

2nd Nov – Revolutionary relationships across the world

9th Nov – Revolutionary relationship with God

16th Nov – How will the world end up?

23rd Nov – The American dream or The Jesus dream? – You decide

5 Men and a dog!

We met at Kidderminster station on Saturday 19th July: a small but select band of 5, Chris, Roger, Simon and Pete plus Pete's friend David. David was dog-sitting for the weekend and was accompanied by Max- an Old English sheepdog the size of a small pony. (David took the photo!)

The weather looked to be variable as our intrepid band of travellers set off. Max was welcome to travel on the train but needed his own ticket, and £2 seemed quite reasonable. We were not sure what to expect and it was reassuring to find that the train was nearly full with only a smattering of empty seats. For the first leg of our journey our train was pulled by a Diesel which was not quite what we were expecting. The older members of our team reminisced about the carriage décor, and how it was just as they remembered.

We stopped at Highley and got off to visit the recently opened visitor centre, which included a very interesting railway museum. The attention to detail even extended to exhibits which explained some of the restoration processes and was greatly appreciated by all.

Our next leg took us by steam power to Bridgnorth where we took a break for lunch in Hightown. We happened to select a pub that was hosting a wedding reception which had a visiting Morris dance troupe for entertainment. Opinions on their entertainment value was varied!

The return to Kidderminster allowed us to enjoy again the wonderful Shropshire & Worcestershire countryside. We were particularly struck by how different some of the familiar landscapes looked from the perspective of the Railway.

All in all a thoroughly enjoyable outing. We look forward to the next event: look out for details, coming soon.

Spaces Available.

Please call Louise on 01562 822858 for more details

“At TotsRock the boys thoroughly enjoyed themselves learning new songs & being given a free reign to 'play' a selection of instruments. I would definitely recommend it as it's a chance for the children to express themselves in music & song, but also for parents & carers to meet & make new friends. I also liked the fact that it wasn't just the same old songs being sung, but a whole lot of new songs & rhymes which made it even better.”

Housegroup BBQ

This past year has seen 2 brand new housegroups being formed. One from the existing prayer group that met on a Friday evening and one from the two Alpha courses that took place in October and January.

Both housegroups came together on Friday 20th July to celebrate their end of year with a barbeque. Fortunately after a very rainy afternoon the weather held out to allow all concerned to venture outdoors and eat rather than have a 'grill' inside. A great evening was had by all, including the 'mozzies' who also seemed to satisfy their appetite!

Hate Incident Partnership

The Wyre Forest Community Safety Partnership has joined forces with other partners, including churches Together in Kidderminster, to launch a new scheme which makes it easier for people to report hate incidents.

This is when a crime is motivated by the hatred of features such as an individual's colour, race, gender, disability, age or sexual orientation.

The new scheme, run by the Wyre Forest Hate Incident Partnership, aims to make it easier for anyone to report hate incidents, and means that third parties can report them too.

To report a hate crime you just need to complete a reporting form which can be picked up at the Council's Customer Service Centres. You can also report it online from the council's website or call the Hub on 01562 732928. This can all be done anonymously if you wish.

Once a hate crime is reported, the form is then returned to our Community Safety Team who will use the information to monitor what's happening in the district and identify areas of concern. They will not share information with any other agencies without your consent.

My Alpha Experience

Ben attended our last Alpha Course in January having never been to church before. This is his story -

“I would thoroughly recommend the Alpha Course to anyone interested in Christianity.

For me personally I had found myself looking for more in life, a meaning and a purpose. I grew more interested in Christianity and found myself on the Alpha Course at Kidderminster Baptist Church.

I remember feeling nervous before my first meeting because I knew very little of the faith and didn't know what to expect!

However, these feelings during my first meeting soon disappeared and I couldn't wait for the next week!

The DVD's were very interesting and easy to follow, there was also no pressure to say or do anything. The discussions after the DVD were relaxed, informal and allowed me to ask my own questions about the religion.

Everyone at Kidderminster Baptist Church has been very friendly and encouraging to me, I have been made to feel most welcome. The Alpha Course really helped me as an 'introduction' to life as a Christian and I would recommend it to anyone.”

Woman Alive is the only interdenominational Christian women's magazine on the market, and it is doing well. In 2006 it won 'best national religious periodical' at the Andrew Cross Awards. This year it celebrates its 25th anniversary.

The Woman Alive success story began in the same year as Prince William was born, the Falkland Islands were invaded by Argentina, the Young Ones first appeared on TV, and legwarmers were the latest fashion accessory. It was 1982, and Christian Woman, as it was then known, was launched in order to offer a positive alternative to the gossip and glamour that were the stuff of ordinary women's magazines.

And so there are profiles of various Christian women living out their faith, as well as the more usual articles on fashion, home cuisine, health, and leisure. Gail Lawther, the first editor, recalls: "We wanted the magazine to be a thought-provoking forum for discussion on Christian attitudes to the world we live in."

Twenty-five years on, the world has changed a lot. For one thing, leg warmers are gone! But the magazine lives on, and its core values remain the same: to produce a good read that will help and inspire women as they juggle their various roles in an increasingly fast-paced and ever-changing world.

So if you enjoy the occasional woman's magazine, why not give Woman Alive a try? The magazine offers real life stories of women living out their faith in the face of various challenges, as well as practical ideas to help Christians 'go deeper' with God. Also included are various lifestyle issues from a Christian perspective, book reviews, and various competitions.

The current editor, Jackie Stead says "We want to ensure that Woman Alive remains relevant to Christian women and continues to provide practical and spiritual support, as well as a challenge. It is our continuing prayer that the magazine will see many more women come alive to Christ in the years to come."

Coast to Coast

My brother and I have just completed the C2C - a 140 mile cycle route running from Whitehaven on the west coast of Cumbria to the North East coast at Tyneside (or Sunderland). Many cyclists complete the route every year; it took us 3 days, camping along the way carrying our tent and gear on the bike.

The route starts in the former coal mining and industrial lands of West Cumbria, travels through the stunning scenery of the northern Lake District and heads into Keswick (an excellent place for coffee and cake) before passing through Penrith and the Eden Valley with its valleys and villages. It then starts the climb up to Hartside. We found this really hard and arrived at our campsite quite late after one of the most amazing down hill cycling stretches I've ever done. Then it's onto the unspoilt Northern Pennines - the roof of England. The ride then follows an undulating route through old lead mining villages, such as Nenthead and Rookhope, and down into the Durham Dales where we enjoyed an excellent lunch in the Dales Centre, before entering the old steel town of Consett. From here it's through one of Britain's old industrial heartlands to the North Sea and Tynemouth where we enjoyed excellent fish and chips before having to cycle 10 miles back to Newcastle to get our train.

You can't imagine how amazing it feels to leave the sea on the West Coast and arrive at the sea on the East a few days later. If you want to know more take a look at www.c2c-guide.co.uk

Chris Lane

Chris, our Treasurer and children's Sunday Club leader, ran the London marathon last year before cycling this year – we wait with anticipation for his next project next year!

Dorothy Milsom 1922-2008

Born on the 25th May 1922 in Offmore Road in Kidderminster, Dorothy enjoyed a happy life. She spoke of enjoying her childhood and the schools that she attended. After her schooling she began work in Halls cake shop on Mill Street whilst also taking shorthand and typing lessons so that she would one day be able to work in an office. It didn't take long for Dorothy to put her shorthand and typing skills to work as, at 17, she began work at Cheshire Printing in Coventry Street, but at the outbreak of war she was sent to Albright & Wilson to make Phosphorous bombs. Four years later she moved to Steartite where other essential war work was carried out, and here she stayed after the war eventually becoming secretary to the Chief Engineer. Halls cake shop on Mill Street was to be of great significance for Dorothy, for it was here that she met a young man Tuan, which led to a long and happy marriage on 2nd December 1944 at the Baptist Church in Church Street. In 1948, they set up home together in Cherry Orchard, and there they stayed for 12 years.

Their relationship together led them to enjoy motorbike holidays together on their Francis Barnett and Triumph 500cc motorbikes in Scotland, Cornwall and Wales.

But it was also Dorothy's dedication to her Christian faith that also dominated her life. She rarely missed a Sunday service at the Baptist Church, attended all the church meetings, and also took part in the Christian Endeavour meetings. Her faith in God played an important part in her everyday living.

Dorothy and Tuan eventually moved to Larches Road in 1963 when Dorothy's father died and her mother became seriously ill. There they stayed, looking after her mother, and there they then remained for many years after.

In 1999 Dorothy unfortunately suffered a number of small strokes that resulted in her moving into The Firs rest home in Habberley Road. Dorothy so enjoyed her time there. She was regularly visited by family and many friends from the Baptist Church. She spoke highly of The Firs, and had many enjoyable years there, and this was to be her final resting place.

Church text for 2008

“Stand at the crossroads and look; ask for the ancient paths, ask where the good way is, and walk in it, and you will find rest for your souls”

Jeremiah 6:16
